HOUSED IN DORMITORIES

Eliot Wadsworth Sees Need for Big Improvement in Teaching Efficiency.

Special Despatch to Tun Sun. CAMBRIDGE, MASS., July 27 .- The fresh nan dormitories at Smith Hall, Harvard University, are in readiness to-day for the hundred or more men of prominence who are expected to attend the Old Grads

These former Harvard men who are to come back for a three days course on the needs of their alma mater will be pouring in on the trains this evening and -morrow morning.
Although many of them were graduated

Although many of them were graduated more than a score of years ago, they will be students again in every sense of the word. Each will occupy a room in the dormitories as he did when he entered Harvard, although many will find the place greatly changed.

Such was the case with William Thomas of the law firm of Thomas, Heedy & Lanagan of San Francisco, who although he comes from the Pacific coast, was the first of the old grads to arrive here. Mr. Thomas entered the freshman class just fifty years ago, when present luxuries were unknown and when many of the large buildings now forming a part of the school had not been dreamed of.

During the next three days Ellot Wadsworth, chairman of the executive committee for the Harvard endowment committee for the Harvard endowment fund and dean of the Old Grads School, will show the gathering many new things about the old place and will point out its future needs. Mr. Wadsworth said to-day:

"Harvard in common with the ma-

"Harvard, in common with the ma jority of colleges and universities, faces to-day a virtual bankruptcy in the maintenance of its efforts for progressive rvice. It faces most critically of all creasing efficiency in its teaching staff. "The teaching staff of Harvard has made her traditions. It must awake her future. Man of proper ability can only be attracted to the university if they receive a salary on which they can decently live and support and educate their children."

Immediate needs of the university are eclared by Mr. Wadsworth to be an in-crease and broadening in the field of chemical instruction, an endowment for the dental school, a large and mobile fund which can be adapted from time to time to the needs of the medical

It was planned to raise $10,000,000 for these purposes. Another million is needed for the Graduate School of Education, a department for the training

Veterans' Paper Warns Men to See How Congress Acts

SEES OPPOSITION COMING

Three Posts to Hold Important Meetings To-night-O'Ryan to Make Address.

Veterans of the great war are arned to keep their eyes on Congress to see how that body acts on the farms-for-soldiers issue which shortly will be brought before it, in an editorial in the current issue of the Amertoan Legion Weekly.

"The question of soldier settlemen shortly will come to an issue befor Congress," the editorial says. "The fundamentals of the problem so far as they affect the interests of the country are that soldier non-employment shall be reduced and soil production increased. This by Government cooper-learn just how strong is the survival in Congress of shifty, flabby, antebellum political chicanery. It will be interesting and profitable to learn just how strong has been the development of a political conscience which can see the national god ahead of vicious self-interest."

Three important post meetings of members of the American Legion will be held in New York city to-night. Two posts, the Reville, named for the town of Reville, France, the last post of command of the 105th Field Artillery, will meet at the Field Artillery Armory, 171 Clareson a Brooklyn and the will meet at $20 Avenue A and elect officers. At the Rialto there are a lot of wild doings, too, for Dorothy Gish appears in "Nugget Nell," a diverting travesty by John R. Cornish of the West that never was on sea or land, but frequently in the movies. Miss Gish plays the peppery keeper of an eating place in the mining country who totes a revolver, but carries a warm heart beneath it. She is loved by a real man of the corduroy breeches type—you can tell he's a real man because he's a great, rough fellow. But she spurns him and turns her affections toward a city chap, who has come West meaning no good to our contributes to the canadian of The Sun

a frank statement of facts regarding an industry representing an investment of approximately $150,000,000.

He states very plainly that the orehards of the Dominion "have fallen into a state of chronic neglect," but he is equally direct in stating his belief that the organized effort now going on to meet this condition of things will make the Canadian fruit industry, in a few years, "a greater national asset than ever before.

Commissioner Baxter's article will appear TO-MORROW, July 29

Extract from a letter to THE SUN from Hon. James A. Robb, chief Liberal Whip, Ottawa.

Canadians will follow with interest the progressive policy of THE SUN in offering to its many seaders a page weekly devoted to a discussion of Ca-nadian news and policies, thus giving a lead to other influential newspapers. The venture should be fruitful of good results not only to Canada but to the United States. It will have a tendency a strong tendency—to bring more closely together two peoples of different na-tions, but yet alike, so that we may contirue the happy relationships that have existed between us for more than a hundied years. Canadians as well as citi-zens of the United States have suffered nationally from a lark of knowledge of each other and of the resources of our respective countries.

Editorial from the Calgary (Alta.) "Herald."

THE NEW YORK SUN is educating its readers concerning Canada by publishing a Canadian news and views department. The purpose is twofold. The American-born who read THE SUN will get information concerning the Dominion, and international relations will thus be improved through a more complete understanding of Canadian aims and Canadian development; and the former Canadians who read THE SUN will get welcome news of their narive land. Alberta is given due mention and its affairs are given the prominence they deserve. This department bespeaks commendable enterprise on the part of
